SKILLS

Basic Skills

Students must have demonstrated knowledge and understanding in an area of study that is founded on general secondary education. Moreover, the area of study is typically at a level that includes certain aspects implying knowledge at the forefront of its field of study, albeit supported by advanced textbooks

Students must be able to apply their knowledge to their work or vocation in a professional manner and possess skills that can typically be demonstrated by coming up with and sustaining arguments and solving problems within their field of study

Students must have the ability to gather and interpret relevant data (usually within their field of study) in order to make judgments that include reflections on pertinent social, scientific or ethical issues

Students must be able to convey information, ideas, problems and solutions to both an expert and non-expert audience

Students must have developed the learning skills needed to undertake further study with a high degree of independence

General Skills

To have the ability to conceive, plan, prepare, organise, manage and mediate visual information.

To have the ability to convey the cultural diversity that exists in a given artistic field and the critical discourse surrounding it.

To have the ability to be intellectually curious professionals who avoid weak, ineffectual thought and who aspire to improve modern culture by conveying values founded on a search for the truth, good and beauty.

Specific skills

To be familiar with Spanish and international cultural institutions and organisations and their operation (museums, exhibitions, biennial events, etc.).

To have the ability to work well in a team.

To possess interpersonal skills and be aware of one's own resources and capabilities in order to produce artistic work.

To be able to convey the knowledge acquired in the world of art and creativity in English, both orally and in writing.
