SUBJECT DESCRIPTION

La asignatura de "Responsabilidad Social" fue concebida como parte de un todo: la formación integral del universitario. Entre otras cosas, -y este es el lugar que esta asignatura pretende cubrir-, no podemos olvidar que nuestro actuar tiene siempre una dimensión social tanto en su ejecución misma como en sus consecuencias o repercusiones, y esta dimensión ni puede ni debe sernos indiferente.

El sentido de la asignatura es que el alumno y la alumna piense y actúe como universitario/a socialmente responsable y entendemos que para ello tiene que conocer al hombre y el mundo actual en sus luces y sus sombras.

La asignatura de Responsabilidad Social es una herramienta esencial para formar al alumno en el "servicio a la sociedad", ya que pretende generar en el universitario un compromiso con el bien común en el ámbito concreto de su profesión y en sus comunidades de referencia actuales (familia, clase, universidad...)

Para ello, la asignatura se despliega en tres ámbitos:

- 1.Prácticas sociales (coordinadas por el Departamento de Acción social) que el alumno desarrolla junto con sus compañeros en una Institución social.
- 2.Desarrollo del temario de la asignatura, que hace hincapié en los aspectos de la antropología más relacionados con la responsabilidad social, como son el bien común, el sufrimiento y el amor como respuesta al misterio del mal.
- 3.Acompañamiento: un encuentro individual y un encuentro grupal con la finalidad de que el alumno reflexione sobre el sentido de esta asignatura y de sus prácticas sociales, de la mano de su mentor/a.

SKILLS

Basic Skills

Students must have demonstrated knowledge and understanding in an area of study that is founded on general secondary education. Moreover, the area of study is typically at a level that includes certain aspects implying knowledge at the forefront of its field of study, albeit supported by advanced textbooks

Students must be able to apply their knowledge to their work or vocation in a professional manner and possess skills that can typically be demonstrated by coming up with and sustaining arguments and solving problems within their field of study

Students must have the ability to gather and interpret relevant data (usually within their field of study) in order to make judgments that include reflections on pertinent social, scientific or ethical issues

Students must be able to convey information, ideas, problems and solutions to both an expert and non-expert audience

Students must have developed the learning skills needed to undertake further study with a high degree of independence

General Skills

To research, manage sources and handle information.

To acquire an ability for analysis, synthesis, assessment and critical reasoning.

To learn independently.

To develop the areas needed to promote teamwork, adapting to new situations, being tolerant, and developing ethical behaviour and social commitment.

Specific skills

To understand the meaning and foundations of human dignity, the fundamental dimensions of the human being, the evolution of the various anthropologies throughout history and their practical implications.

To apply ethical principles and values in both personal and professional life.

To be able to approach a subject by means of rigorous, profound and comprehensive thought, with capacity for analysis and synthesis.

To work in teams, actively contributing to group tasks and objectives.

To nurture attitudes of leadership and social responsibility in personal and professional performance.
