SUBJECT DESCRIPTION

La asignatura "Prevención de la Delincuencia y su Tratamiento" ofrece un conocimiento especializado sobre

- las teorías criminológicas enfocadas en la comprensión y prevención del delito y la reincidencia,
- los modelos y programas de reeducación y reinserción social que acompañan a las personas sometidas a sanciones o medidas penales en su proceso de integración social,
- y las estrategias de intervención social y tratamiento judicial y extrajudicial mas efectivas, para la prevención del delito y del riesgo de reincidencia.

El acercamiento científico al delito, al delincuente y su víctima en los distintos tipos y formas de Delincuencia Convencional y no Convencional, Delincuencia Juvenil, Delincuencia económica, Delincuencia grave y organizada... permitirá dotar a los estudiantes de las herramientas necesarias para el análisis crítico, la evaluación y el diseño de programas eficaces de intervención y tratamiento de la delincuencia tanto en situaciones de libertad como de privación de libertad, que respondan a las preguntas antropológica, epistemológica, ética y de sentido.

El auge de distintas formas de criminalidad, el crimen organizado y la delincuencia grave se encuentran, hoy, entre los principales riesgos y amenazas para la seguridad y el bienestar de los ciudadanos por lo que resulta necesario, además, conocer el marco jurídico nacional e internacional en el que se desarrollan.
