

IDENTIFICATION DETAILS

Degree:	Criminology
Field of Knowledge:	Social and Legal Science
Faculty/School:	Law, Business and Governance
Course:	INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION AGAINST CRIME
Type:	Compulsory	ECTS credits:	3
Year:	3	Code:	6143
Teaching period:	Sixth semester
Area:	Crime prevention
Module:	Criminology
Teaching type:	Classroom-based
Language:	Spanish
Total number of student study hours:	75

SUBJECT DESCRIPTION

El alumno estudiará la globalización del fenómeno delictivo, los riesgos y amenazas que conlleva, así como las soluciones que el Sistema Internacional a través de sus estructuras e instrumentos en el ámbito de la Cooperación Judicial y Policial que en materia Penal, ha desarrollado para combatir la criminalidad transfronteriza.

SKILLS

Basic Skills

Students must have demonstrated knowledge and understanding in an area of study that is founded on general secondary education. Moreover, the area of study is typically at a level that includes certain aspects implying knowledge at the forefront of its field of study, albeit supported by advanced textbooks

Students must be able to apply their knowledge to their work or vocation in a professional manner and possess skills that can typically be demonstrated by coming up with and sustaining arguments and solving problems within their field of study

Students must have the ability to gather and interpret relevant data (usually within their field of study) in order to make judgments that include reflections on pertinent social, scientific or ethical issues

Students must be able to convey information, ideas, problems and solutions to both an expert and non-expert audience

Students must have developed the learning skills needed to undertake further study with a high degree of independence

General Skills

To acquire an ability for analysis, synthesis, assessment and critical reasoning.

To communicate orally and in writing within different contexts.

To be familiar with and apply analytical techniques and procedures for research in problem-solving, decision-making and issue of reports concerning issues submitted for consideration in the field of criminology.

Specific skills

To assess and design a range of public policies to address crime from a legal, scientific and ethical standpoint.

To be familiar with and understand the various social and psychosocial factors influencing the criminal phenomenon: marginal or exclusion settings, etc. To design and assess suitable intervention strategies for preventive purposes.

To analyse the transformations and development of modern societies and their political and social movements.

To be able to identify the methodological and scientific foundations of criminology. To use the most suitable techniques for each specific investigation.

To be familiar with and analyse the phenomenon of common, street crime; contemporary delinquency and new forms of criminal activity (domestic and gender-related violence, organised crime, cybercrime, terrorism, etc.), white collar crime, corporate crime, etc. Likewise, to be familiar with the various national and international responses to these criminal phenomena.

DISTRIBUTION OF WORK TIME

CLASSROOM-BASED ACTIVITY	INDEPENDENT STUDY/OUT-OF-CLASSROOM ACTIVITY
30 hours	45 hours